QUIETLY IMPRESSIVE

Framingham Gardens is a small development of four incredible Georgian inspired homes, in a quiet and sought after village south-east of Norwich. The developer has an extensive track record of building properties of this calibre – these are very special properties which require that experience to deliver.

Classic period architecture - and with imposing stature - these beautiful homes immediately impress. Throughout the development bay windows combine perfectly with cast stone Porticos to create imposing but beautiful façades. Sash windows further enhance the appeal, both inside and out. Brickweave driveways and double garages are of course provided

DISTINCTLY DESIGNED

Cavendish House and Pembroke House present facades of perfect symmetry but differ in both orientation and brick colour so each is as distinct as they are handsome. Their internal layouts are marginally different too, as of course as the gardens. To the rear of the development Wentworth House and Ashbourne House offer a different appeal with an elongated façade encompassing integral double garages. These therefore provide even more first floor accommodation over the already spacious first two properties.

All properties offer extensive specification as you would expect of such grandeur and we welcome you to inspect this level of detail for yourselves. Ten year new homes insurance backed warranties are

A LOCATION TO CALL HOME

Framingham Earl offers the sort of setting many buyers hope to find close to Norwich: quieter, greener and village-led, but without feeling tucked too far away. Set just south-east of the city, it gives you a little more breathing space while still keeping Norwich within easy reach for work, shopping, culture and evenings out.

One of its greatest strengths is its position. Norwich is only around four miles away, with regular links between Framingham Earl and the city, making it a practical choice for those who want village life without losing everyday convenience.

The coast is also within reach, with Southwold and the wider Suffolk coastline close enough for weekends, beach walks and slower days out by the water.

Norwich brings the wider lifestyle pull, from independent shops, restaurants, cafés and theatres to the market, cathedral quarter and riverside walks. The city also offers rail links and Norwich Airport, helping keep wider travel practical too.
